

Body Organization

Body Organization

- The body is organized
- Each part has a function
- Each part needs the other parts
- When all parts are working, the organism is healthy

Body Organization

Body Organization

- Organism – the entire body of a living thing

What examples of organisms can you think of?

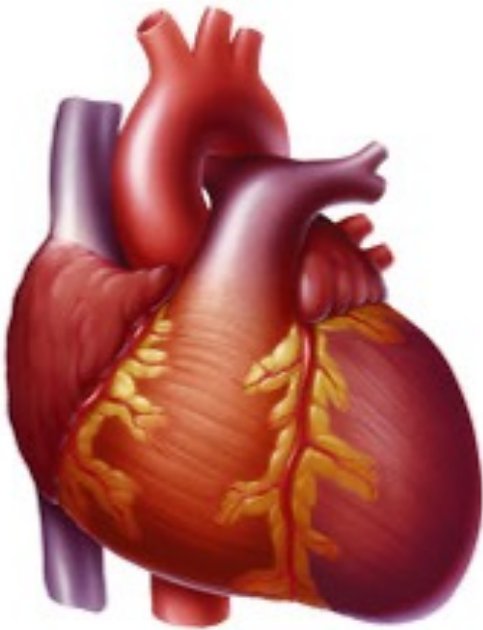

Body Organization

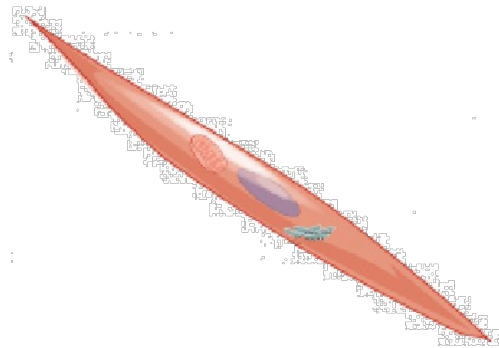

Organ System – a group of organs and tissues working together to perform a function

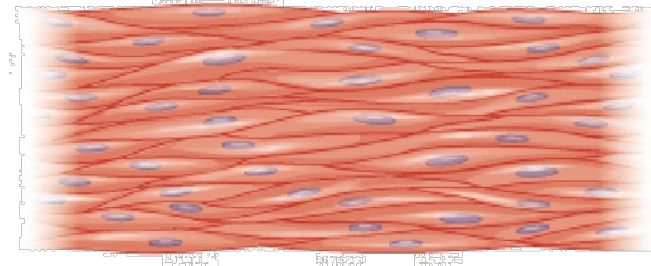

Body Organization

Organ – two or more tissues working together to perform a specific function

Muscle cell

Muscle tissue

Body Organization

- Tissue – a group of similar cells working together
- Cell – the basic unit of life. All living things are made of one or more cells.

Levels of Body Organization

Organism

Organ
System

Organ

Tissue

Cell

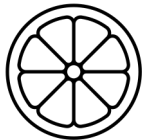

Homeostasis

- Homeostasis when all conditions are stable and suitable for organisms to thrive.
- What conditions do organisms need?

water

nutrients

temperature

